

14-Day Labour Guarantee

All Computer Place London repairs carry a fourteen-day (14) limited warranty against defects in materials and workmanship. This warranty pertains only to the specific repair and any new and different defect in materials or workmanship will be treated as a new incident. Parts and products provided as a result of warranty service may be other than new but will be in good working order. All defective materials that are replaced become the property of Computer Place London.

Over the last 15 years Computer Place London has built, sold and repaired thousands of computers. From simple home computers to business computers, we have installed and serviced them all.

We know you have a large investment in your computer. We treat every computer in our workshop and on-site as if it was our own. Each computer is handled with care and respect.

Confidentiality is a Promise

Your personal and business files are safe with us. We never read, copy or divulged any of our client's information. With clients like banks, law enforcement, government agencies, doctors, accountants, journalists, students, professors, teachers, small and medium businesses, work-from-home, self employed, psychiatrists, lawyers and just plain folks, we NEVER pry into their affairs - And that is a Promise!

We keep you informed

If during our workshop diagnosis, we discover problems that were not apparent at first look, we will contact you before repairs are initiated.

Occasionally, during workshop diagnosis, we uncover problems that require more extensive work and or, parts than originally thought - we will always keep you informed!

Nothing but the best

We use only the highest quality repair parts for all of our service work. Our repair components are generally of a higher quality than the original parts used when your computer was originally constructed - You can rest assured

Your computer will be serviced by the most competent and proficient professionals in the industry.

Once you become our client, you can always call us for help on any computer related problem or question.
